A NEW POLICY

This Trademark Is Your Protection

It will be placed on every piece of furniture that leaves our store.

We are proud of the furniture we sell and believe it worthy of being trademarked. This little stamp of blue, gold and black assures you that the quality, style and price is right—that you have a tangible guarantee against dissatisfaction. You may be proud of it before your friends because it represents the best that can be had.

Here are some of the things this trademark means to you.

1. It signifies that the furniture on which it appears is dependable and must be satisfactory in every way.
2. It means that our buyer has selected the piece from hundreds of other good lines of furniture as the best in style and value in the market. The greatest care is used in selecting our stock.
3. It guarantees the article a value. If it can be shown that a piece of equal quality can be purchased elsewhere for less, the difference will be cheerfully refunded.
4. It means that any defect that may arise will be satisfactorily remedied or the article exchanged.
5. By means of this little mark, you will immediately be able to identify Schaffner's furniture. It is a small thing to look for but a big thing to find.

A LITTLE LOCAL HISTORY

In 1848 Henry Schaffner, the founder of this business, came with his father and family from their native land, Switzerland, to this country, settling for a time at Ontario, Ohio.

Later he came to Marion, deciding in the early fifties to learn the cabinet maker's trade, which at that time included coffin making. After learning the trade he worked in several of the larger cities in order to gain a wider experience; returning to Marion where, after working for David Jamison, Samuel Saiter and Kowalke & Munday, he, with William Fies and Albert Dreyer, fellow journeymen, formed a partnership and on March 26, 1866, embarked in the Furniture & Undertaking business.

Their only capital was their knowledge of their business and a reputation for sterling integrity. They prospered but decided, by mutual consent, to dissolve the partnership in March, 1877. After closing up the business, they made division of the assets and each started in the same business, Mr. Dreyer retiring in a short time to a farm. Mr. Fies remained in the business until about twenty years ago when he sold out.

Henry Schaffner, the founder of this business, went into the retail manufacture and sale of furniture, adding undertaking in 1882. The firm name was H. Schaffner for thirty years and, at his death in 1907, the business was incorporated and named for him—The H. Schaffner Company. It was always his idea that anyone, who had confidence enough in him to pay the price he asked for his wares, should be treated as well as a more aggressive buyer and, for that reason, he adopted the one low price policy. He never violated a confidence. He preferred to do less business on a high quality and low price basis and religiously to that principle and successfully. The name of Schaffner has been honorably associated with the Furniture and Undertaking business in Marion for nearly three-quarters of a century.

The H. Schaffner Company, his successors, have had these principles instilled in them by precept and example and know of no reason to change. The third generation is as interested in serving you with the newest and best that is obtainable with the same degree of courtesy and honesty of purpose as the first.

SALVATION ARMY TO WAGE NATIONAL DRIVE

Good Angels of Blue Bonnet To Be Numerous.

A national campaign to bring to the very small towns and the rural communities all of the service that has proved highly successful and a wonderful force for good in the big cities is being conducted by the Salvation Army. Brigadier Herbert Roberts, divisional commander of the army in Cincinnati, whose territory comprises Western Ohio and all of Kentucky, is at the head of the movement which is expected to benefit every cross roads hamlet over farm in their district. A similar undertaking has been launched throughout the entire United States and expert organizers are being sent over where to the end that the Salvation Army's Blue Bonnet may be brought to every door in the land even the humblest door.

According to Brigadier Roberts,

the home service program of the army will place its trained officers and its institutional service at the disposal of every community through the organization of community advisory boards which cooperate with and are representative of the army. These are small volunteer bodies of men and women who have distinguished themselves by their community leadership and by the confidence and trust reposed in them by their fellow citizens at home.

Brigadier and Mrs. Roberts say that "a contemplated work of the army will be the first of the kind ever attempted by a national organization. In other words, they explain the army will endeavor to handle cases in sections which at present are not equipped for such service and thus endeavor to become the "one best friend" of every man, woman and child.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Trinity Baptist Festival Ends.

"When Jesus Christ died victoriously, 'It is finished,' the way of heaven was open to man," declared Rev. George M. Landis in the closing sermon of the Trinity Baptist church last evening to hear his final revival sermon on "Finished." The text of the sermon was taken from John 19:30, "It is finished." Continuing, he said, "This statement 'It is finished' is not worthy because man never finishes anything. One of the greatest things a builder said on his death bed 'So much to do, so little done.' Even that which man seems to have finished, needs to be repaired."

"In examining the text, we will consider four things—the meaning of the cry, the meaning of the meaning and the object. The maker of the cry was the dying Son of God. The meaning of the cry was not the expiration of a dying victim or the declaration of a defeated reformer. It was the great proclamation of a victorious conqueror. He lay down His life, it was not taken from Him."

"The meaning of the proclamation affected the whole normal universe. It meant that the dispensation of the law was finished, that the making of blood sacrifices was finished; that God's dealing with the sinful seed of Adam was finished and that the sin question which Satan brought into the world was finished. 'The objects of the proclamation were threefold. It was a final message to His Father and to the watching hosts of heaven; it was made to save and the hosts of darkness, and it was made to last eternally.'"

"It is for all—Pagan, Moslem, Baptist, moralists, blasphemers, drunkards. It is for you who are here tonight. Accept Him and rest in His finished work."

Rev. Mr. Landis left this morning for his home in Western Springs, Illinois, where he will continue his work as pastor. Speaking of him, after the service last evening, Dr. T. H. McAfee said: "Rev. Mr. Landis has won a place in the heart of Trinity. We pray God's blessing on him and earnestly hope he may be returned to us."

COURT RIGHT-OF-WAY IS GIVEN TO DIVORCE SUITS

Zeneth E. Mowrer Says Wife Threw Dishes at Him.

MRS. ARTHUR T. POWELL
SAYS HUSBAND IS ROVER

Mrs. Lester E. Smothers Sues.
Elizabeth M. Holt Sues E. J.
Spitler for $10,125.

Zeneth E. Mowrer Friday afternoon for divorce from Margaret Mowrer in the common pleas court. Mowrer alleged extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty. The petition was filed through C. H. Conley.

The plaintiff charges the defendant with an ungovernable temper, alleging that she cursed the plaintiff and, without provocation, threw articles of furniture and dishes at him and frequently, during the year 1920, cursed him in the presence of neighbors and threw a butcher-knife at him.

It is also charged that the defendant neglected her household duties, sought the company of other men, taking motor trips and on October 22 and November 3, 1920, started out all night. He asks for a divorce and that the defendant be barred from all interest in his property.

Having Disposition.

Charging the defendant is of a roving disposition and has never provided her with a home, food or clothing, Goldie E. Powell Friday afternoon in common pleas court filed suit for divorce from Arthur T. Powell. She alleges gross neglect and extreme cruelty. They were married February 8, 1918, and have no children. The plaintiff alleges they lived together only a short time and that the defendant frequently abandoned her, leaving her the last time September 9, 1919. She states that prior to that date the defendant made an unprovoked assault on her, inflicting permanent injuries and that he was otherwise cruel and abusive. She asks for a divorce and restoration of her maiden name of Harvey. The petition was filed through L. E. Myers.

Mrs. Lester E. Smothers Sues. Myrtle M. Smothers has filed in the common pleas court a suit for divorce from Lester E. Smothers, alleging gross neglect. The petition was filed through L. E. Myers. They were married December 9, 1914, at Marion and have three children. The plaintiff alleges the defendant became jealous shortly after their marriage and has been harsh in his treatment of her. During 1918, the petition charges, the defendant deserted his wife and one child, remaining away one year and with the exception of providing $10 a month toward the support of the child, did nothing to maintain them. The plaintiff also claims the defendant ordered her to go to her parents April 19, 1919 and after she had gone he sold the household goods and kept the proceeds. She states April 22, 1920, the defendant again abandoned her and has not since lived with her or provided anything toward her maintenance. She asks for a divorce and the custody of the three children.

Motion to Strike Out.

A motion to strike out certain parts of the petition alleged to be irrelevant and conclusions of facts has been filed by the defense in the common pleas court in the suit of Matilda M. Deyson against the American Railway Express company. The motion was filed through Carhart & Warner.

The plaintiff is suing for $10,225 alleged damages when an automobile from which she was alighting was struck by an express wagon on north State street. The amount includes $10,000 for alleged personal injuries, $100 damages to the machine and $125 for doctor's bills.

Motion for New Trial.

A motion for a new trial in the case of Charles F. Moore against Fred W. Almendinger has been filed by the plaintiff in the common pleas court through Justice, Young & Mowrer.

A jury in the common pleas court Thursday night returned a verdict in favor of the defendant in the case. Moore sued for $10,000 alleged damages for personal injuries in an automobile accident June 11, 1920 when the automobile in which he was riding and one owned by the defendant and driven by Clyde Ward collided on the Smelter-Bethlehem road.

Verdict for Kesselman.

A verdict for the defendant was returned in the common pleas court Friday evening by a jury in the case of the Silverline Junk company against Max Kesselman. The plaintiff sued for $203.63 for paper alleged to have been sold to the defendant, while the defendant, in his cross-petition, set up a claim for $202.75 for alleged breach of contract in the sale of a car of paper and magazines to him by the plaintiff.

Dislikes Work.

Alleging the defendant dislikes work, is shiftless and has failed to properly support her since marriage, Edith V. App today filed in the common pleas court, suit for divorce from Ver K. App. They were married September 29, 1917 and have no children. The petition was filed through M. E. Hill. The plaintiff charges the defendant frequently abandoned her, remaining away long periods, and sending her no means of support, and now is living in California. Divorce, restoration of her maiden name of Chapman and temporary and permanent alimony are asked.

Definite and Certain.

A motion to require the defendant to make its answer definite and certain by stating what acts of omission or commission the defendant claims the plaintiff to be guilty of contributing negligence, was filed in the common pleas court today in the $3,000 damage suit of Jane Luft against the city of Marion. The motion was filed for the plaintiff by Carhart & Warner. The plaintiff is suing for alleged injuries to her ankle when she slipped from a street car at the Center street transfer, claiming the injury to be due to a defect in the pavement.

Suit for $483.18.

Suit for $483.18 alleged due on an account was filed in the common pleas court this morning by Hill & Griffith company against the Blockson Brothers company. The petition was filed through C. C. Fisher.

It is claimed the amount is due on an account for goods delivered to the defendant. It is also stated the sum was mutually agreed upon by the parties as the balance March 25.

Suit for $10,125.

Suit for $10,125 alleged personal injuries and doctor's bills was filed in the common pleas court this morning by Elizabeth M. Holt against E. J. Spitler. The petition was filed through H. E. Hill.

The action is the outgrowth of an accident February 10, 1921, just north of the corporation line on north Main street when an automobile driven by the defendant collided with a carriage in which the plaintiff was riding. The plaintiff claims that as a result of the collision, in which she was thrown from the carriage, she has only partial use of her left leg and right arm and shoulder and that her injuries are permanent.

JOHN KELLY ELEVATOR DESTROYED AT LARUE

With Fire Loss Estimated Between $8,000 and $9,000.

CONSIDERABLE GRAIN IS BURNED WITH BUILDING

Spontaneous Combustion is Believed To Have Caused the Blaze Early Today.

LaRue, O., March 25.—(Special.)—Fire, thought to have originated from spontaneous combustion, completely destroyed the John Kelly elevator here this morning and for a time threatened the postoffice and two nearby residences. The loss is estimated at from $8,000 to $9,000 and is only partly covered by insurance.

When the fire was discovered about 6 o'clock this morning smoke was coming out of the cupola and the whole interior of the building was in flames. The volunteer fire department did excellent work in preventing the spread of the flames. It was necessary to keep throwing water on the postoffice building and the residences of Ralph Clark and John Thoms. All of the furnishings were taken out of the Clark residence. The records and office furniture of the elevator were saved. John Kelly purchased the elevator last fall from the LaRue Grain & Feed company. The building contained a large amount of seeds, feed and corn. There was no wheat in it. Another building on the same site burned May 24, 1876.

CITY IN BRIEF

For Appendicitis—Herman Fiedler, of No. 188 Cummin avenue, was operated on Thursday evening for appendicitis at the City hospital.

Almonds Church, Auto Stolen—Murray D. Stayer, of No. 354 Chester street, reported to the police about 10 o'clock Friday night that his Ford machine with license No. 290,550, was stolen from east Center street while he was attending the services at the Epworth M. E. church. He furnished a description of the machine.

Skunks Again—The animal commonly known as the skunk has been causing havoc with chickens in the northeast part of the city and residents on the outskirts have lost hundreds of young fowls during the month. After the cause of the disappearance of the fowls became known, the raisers of chickens started setting traps and in the past two weeks at least five skunks were caught and then shot from a safe distance.

Memorial Day Plans—Arrangements for a meeting of representatives of all the patriotic organizations of the city at the armory Monday evening, April 4, at 7 o'clock, to prepare for the observance of Memorial day were made at the regular meeting of Marion Camp, No. 32, Spanish War veterans, Friday night. A request was made that all patriotic organizations send delegates to this meeting, at which it is intended to form the central committee to have charge of the Memorial day observance. Members of the Spanish War veterans committee, appointed last night by the commander, are T. E. Andrews, chairman; Fred Morrison, E. R. Boudley, E. E. Glosser and C. O. Mediam.

They're from Marion—It will be of interest to Marion people and to students of the Harding High school to learn that Harry and Howard Orlean, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Orlean, are quite prominent in the intellectual and literary pursuits at Northwestern University, Naperville, Illinois. Both men, recent graduates of the local high school, were prominent members of their class and took active participation in adding materially to the debate and literary work of the school. Likewise they have established a splendid record and activity list in their college work. Both are members of the varsity debate teams, which are at present holding a series of debates with a number of the western schools. In addition to this, Howard is the assistant editor of the "Spectrum," the school's publication and according to custom will assume the duties and responsibilities as editor-in-chief of that literary production next year.

SOCIAL PURITY AND HEALTH, W. C. T. U. THEMEIt's Discussed by State Worker
at County Institute.

The annual County W. C. T. U. Institute was held Friday afternoon and evening in the Wesley M. E. church, on west Center street. The program opened with a song service in charge of Mrs. A. O. Woods and devotions by Mrs. Frank Berry. Greetings were read from the state president, Mrs. Florence Richards, after which talks were made by Mrs. Lillian Burt, state health worker, who had for her subject, "Social Purity and Health," and Mrs. Minnie Jamison, who told of her work among the colored people. Mrs. Burt explained the prohibition bills before congress and a roundtable discussion followed. Mrs. Carrie Durr gave an interesting talk on her work in Americanization in the city.

A report of the Jubilee fund was given by Mrs. S. O. Young. Morral, Waldo and Caledonia each have paid their quota for the fund and all were given stars on the Jubilee map. Mrs. Addison Bain was appointed health superintendent at the afternoon session. At the close of the afternoon session the members of the Florence Richards union served a supper in the basement of the church.

The evening meeting opened with a song service led by Merle Laney and was followed by an address, "What the Women Have Done for Prohibition," by Rev. M. L. Buckley, of the Central Christian church. "Child Welfare and Health Work" was the subject of Mrs. Lillian Burt's evening address and Mrs. Minnie Jamison gave another talk on her work with the colored people. Both the afternoon and evening sessions were well attended. Caledonia was the only out-of-town chapter represented.

CHEER UP, GIRLS! THIS WEATHER GUY MAY BE OFF

Anyhow, Here's Hoping 'Twill Be Nice Sunday.

Cheer up, girls! The weather man is not always right, and so, while he predicts probable thunder showers for tomorrow, the sun often comes out pretty and bright and warm between showers and every last one, from the little coquet in her early teens to the demure young widow and the staid matron, and the handsome grey-haired mother—all will perhaps get a chance to make their bow.

Here's hoping, anyhow, "cause wouldn't it be a shame if they didn't get a chance to show off their Easter finery?

But, oh, boy! Don't forget her, rain or shine.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to sincerely express our heartfelt appreciation to the many friends who so kindly offered their help and sympathy at the time of our sad bereavement. Also thank those sending the beautiful flowers and those who smiled with the donation of card. Mrs. Arthur Myers, Dorothy and Jane.

FOSTER'S WEATHER

Washington, —March 20.—Five storm waves will cross the continent during April, crossing meridian 90 near March 1, 15 and April 18, as they progress eastward. The storm wave consists of three principal features: warmer, stormy, cooler. The average time in crossing the continent from Alaska to the vicinity of Newfoundland is near five days and, as the storms move in a half circle, on this continent, around the magnetic North pole, the average path of the storms goes far south after passing east of the Rockies. The force of these storms will increase from first to last of April, most severe during weeks centering on April 9 and 22.

Crop weather of April will be generally good with average temperatures and rain. After the first week in April the center of evaporation will be on the central Atlantic ocean east of Newfoundland. As the evaporated moisture will move westward to meet the eastward-bound storms most rain will fall east of the high ridges and mountains that extend northward and also on the eastern slopes of high hills and elevated lands. These conditions are quite favorable to two-thirds, or three-fourths, of the continent, but west of these elevations may be expected less than usual rain. This appears unfavorable to west of the Rockies, near Alleghenies on the west side, west of Black Hills, between the Blue Ridge and the Alleghenies; favorable to valleys of rivers extending eastward.

Most rain is expected during the weeks of severe storms. These conditions indicate about average crop

FLOWERS AD INFINITUM;
THEY ARE CHEAPER, TOO

Never Have There Been So
Many Easter Plants.

Flowers, flowers—never were there so many lovely flowers in Marion perhaps at such an early Easter time—and never has the sale been larger. Just seems like everybody wants to say the Easter greetings in flowers this year.

The florists shops are ablaze with a mass of brilliant colors, subdued with the more delicate shades. There are all kinds of Easter bloom to choose from, both potted and cut flowers. Never were the hyacinths and daffodils more beautiful, never were the tulips and jonquils prettier, and the quality of the roses is above the average. For the past three years there have been few Easter lilies ready for the Easter season, owing to the cold winters, but this year the warmer weather has brought the lily back to its customary place on the market as the queen of Easter bloom.

Local florists report that the sale yesterday was the largest Friday sale preceding Easter of any ever in the history of Marion and the sale today has been unequalled.

The florists have more stock this year than ever before, especially for such an early Easter, this being due to the mild weather this winter, which forced on the spring stock. The prices average from twenty-five to thirty-five per cent lower than last year.

Many people are sending their friends and relatives potted plants and baskets of spring bloom, but the cottage seems to be the favorite among cut flowers, the sale of corseges being exceedingly heavy this year.

TOO ILL TO WORK

A Mother Tells How Her Daughter Was Made Well Again by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Philadelphia, Pa.—"At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble every morning. She had bad pains across her back and in her sides, her back would pain her so that she could not do her work and would have to lie down. My married daughter, concerned by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, she took it faithfully and is now regular and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this letter for Mrs. KATIE EICHEN, 603 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions and often with wet feet, young girls contract deranged conditions, and before they are hardly aware of it they develop headaches, backaches, irregularities, nervousness and bearing-down pains, all of which are symptoms of woman's ills. If every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms would profit by the experience of Mrs. Eichen and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial she may expect the same happy result.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for cathartic pills. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing, vegetable laxative.

No grating in the "bowels" of these little, sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 25c and 50c.

Miss Norva Sidwell Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Brother

"Eruption of the skin broke out in small blisters on my brother's body. The blisters would break and larger ones would come until his body was a solid mass of blisters. He was cross and fretful and couldn't stand any clothing to be on his body, and he wanted the itching out by rubbing it.

"This trouble lasted for months and we tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment with good results. When we had used two boxes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment he was healed." (Signed) Miss Norva Sidwell, R. F. D. 3, Watrous, Kansas.

Once clear, keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for every-day toilet purposes and Cuticura Talcum to powder and perfume. Nothing better.

"Here, dear, don't you think these are a trifle more the shade than these? What are these, Mr. Blank? Four dollars? Oh, that is too much! What do you think, dearie? Couldn't we get along with shorter stems?"

"I am afraid we can't do that," I said doubtfully. "You see, every minute is precious to Mrs. Duvette this afternoon. She's changed the whole scheme of decoration for Lella's room since yesterday, and we're almost out of our minds today. Edith planned to do her errands while I went to the station after you, and she will be waiting for me to help her decide about the flowers. She knows you're coming, too, and it would look—"

"Police! Help!" Dicky groaned. "I know what that means." He threw his voice into a falsetto.

No, I suppose we couldn't. Well, please show us—"

"Do what up, Dicky," I pleaded, laughing. "You know neither Edith nor I do that sort of thing."

"I know that for any other man could buy out a whole block's shop while any woman on earth is beginning to sniff around the glass case," he retorted. "But I suppose I'll have to be the goat, so he for the world's shop. Perhaps I can hurry things up a bit." He added hopefully, but to my dismay I had visions of the disastrous possibilities of Dicky's hurrying up things.

Ladies Let Cuticura Keep Your Skin Fresh and Young

Health!

Comes to you and the children if you have Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the house. For "little-ones" and "grown-ups" this old-fashioned vegetable tonic and blood-maker is still used by the million bottles every year. Make your blood better and your health better by going to your nearest druggist and obtaining Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in tablet or liquid form.

A healthy stomach turns the food we eat into nourishment for the blood stream and the nerves. No one suffers from colds or catarrh in all its forms is a stagnation of the blood. Introduce pure, redder blood into the system, and health is assured. Dr. Pierce, over fifty years ago, gave to the public this alternative and blood tonic which he named his "Golden Medical Discovery." It is sold by all druggists the world over in tablets or liquid, and is just the thing to put the body in the best of condition. It is a tonic, alternative and purgative, which contains no alcohol, and has the ingredients printed on the label. "Golden Medical Discovery" assists the digestive functions, assimilating the food and taking from it what is necessary for feeding the blood. Thus the blood takes on a new vigor and vitality. This constructive remedy nature put in the forest for keeping us healthy. One feels strong, vigorous and full of "pep," instead of weak, nervous and "played out." Send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., or send for a free medical booklet on any disease or write for free medical advice.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens So Naturally that No-body can Tell.

You can turn gray hair, faded hair, beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight. If you get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store, millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful. This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight. It's the delectable tea with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active. Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take two tablespoonsful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which every one should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Special Good Friday Services.
Special Good Friday services were held at the Catholic, Episcopal and Lutheran churches of the city yesterday. At St. Mary's Catholic church, Fr. DeLoach presided and the offering of it to the people for veneration. A fragment of the true cross of Calvary, brought back from Europe by Father Joseph M. Denning was used for that purpose. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock there was the way of the cross and a sermon on the crucifixion by Father Denning.

Midday meditation on the seven words of the dying Lord was held at St. Paul's Episcopal church Friday afternoon from 12 to 3 o'clock. Following this service the church was closed and will not be opened until tomorrow morning.

A Lenten sermon appropriate to Good Friday was delivered Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Emanuel Lutheran church by the pastor, Rev. I. W. Schilinger. At Salem Evangelical church there was a special service Friday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. D. H. Moritz.

A Letter from India.
Mrs. James Snyder and Mrs. Albert Shuster entertained the members of the Missionary society, of the Emanuel Lutheran church, Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Snyder on Cedar street. "A Letter from India" was the subject of a paper by Mrs. B. R. Felt, and Mrs. James Willoughby gave two Easter poems. A social hour followed the program.

True Blue Class.
The True Blue class, of the Pleasant Hill Sunday-school, was entertained Friday evening by Miss Mildred Sappington at her home six miles northwest of Marion. Miss Mary Wyle opened the meeting with a vocal selection and after the Bible study hour a contest was enjoyed. Honors going to Miss Grace Peterson. The remainder of the evening was passed with music and social pastime.

First Presbyterian Church.
The choir of the First Presbyterian church will render an Easter cantata of exceptional merit Sunday morning. The sorrows of the Crucifixion and the joys of the Resurrection will furnish the double theme of the composition. The service will also be featured most impressively by the reception of new members into the church during which both adult and infant baptism will be administered. At the evening sermon the choir will sing appropriate Easter selections and the pastor, Dr. Linus L. Strook, will preach on "The Joy of the Resurrection."

St. Paul's Lutheran Church.
The following Easter program will be rendered at St. Paul's English Lutheran church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Song by the choir.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church.
Starting with a corporate communion for the entire parish at 7 a. m. the program for the day at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Sunday, will be one of splendor. At 9 a. m. the church school will be held and the young people will present their mid-boxes in which they have been gathering an offering for the missionary work of the church throughout the Lenten season. At 10:30 a. m. there will be a choral celebration of holy communion with a special feast procession in honor of the great feast. Father Joseph who has been preaching at St. James' church in Cleveland, will return to Marion for this service and will deliver the Easter sermon at the mid-day service, after which he will leave for Cincinnati, where he will visit with his people in his old parish of St. Luke's before returning to Wisconsin for his work in the Order of St. Francis. At 2:15 p. m. the young people will hold their Easter festival. At this service the young persons will tell how they raised their Lenten offering and the pastor will present awards to the holders of the highest amounts in each class. Inasmuch as Easter is a great feast of the church the celebration will be continued throughout the eight days following, concluding on the Sunday after Easter, which, in the Christian calendar, is entitled Low Sunday and at which time the Easter music will be repeated.

Epworth M. E. Church Musical.
In his sermon last night at Epworth M. E. church on "The Hammer and Nails of Sin," Dr. George H. Birney painted a graphic portrait of the scenes surrounding the crucifixion of Jesus.

"Men are still crucifying the Son of God afresh by refusing to receive Him into their hearts," said Dr. Birney. "Will you crucify Him again tonight or will you open your hearts and let Him come in?"

In answer ten seekers went to the altar and found the Savior. Dr. Birney will finish his work at Epworth church with a full program of services Easter day, as follows: Sunrise praise service, 6 o'clock; Sunday-school, 9 o'clock; sermon by Dr. Birney, 10:30 a. m.; Epworth league song and praise service, 4 p. m.; great song service and farewell sermon by Dr. Birney, 7 p. m. Opportunity to unite with the church will be given at both the morning and evening services.

A COMMENDABLE PROGRAM.

Mr. Husband, the new commissioner general of immigration, has some well-defined plans for solving the immigration problem, so far as it relates to the distribution of aliens after they have been admitted to this country. He hopes to secure the cooperation of the departments of the interior, agriculture and labor in an effort to divert the stream of immigrants from the city to the farm.

Mr. Husband asserts that the majority of our immigrants are peasant farmers, whose ambition in life is to own a piece of land. Too many of them have heretofore settled in the cities, largely for the reason that those before them did the same. The commissioner declares that there is land enough in this country for millions of small farms. In the West and South thousands of acres are being reclaimed by irrigation and drainage, while in the East there are many abandoned farms that should be utilized.

"Our plan," say Mr. Husband, "is not to replace American farmers with foreigners, but to create new farms and make new farmers, thereby increasing the resources of the nation. Our immigration problem is largely a problem of distribution of the immigrants. The farm, with the advantages we can offer, will be the best sort of an Americanization school."

"A Fellow's Gotta Keep Quiet!"

RECOGNITION OF THE REDS.

Great Britain has finally succumbed to the lure of the pound sterling in its attitude toward the soviet government of Russia, and the announcement in London that commercial relations would be resumed with the Russians under red rule did not provoke enthusiasm on the part of peoples who realize the danger that is involved.
 It is useless for the government of Great Britain to attempt to deceive itself by making any distinction between the resumption of commercial relations and the recognition of the Bol-shevist regime. It is to be doubted if any considerable number of the people of Great Britain are fooled.

Britain, it is understood, stipulates that the Bolsheviks shall not carry on their propaganda outside of Russia and promises that the British will not interfere with the internal affairs of Russia. This may sound encouraging, but the well-known character of the red leaders is such that few will have confidence that they will keep their part of the bargain.

Lenine and Trotsky will exploit the arrangement with Great Britain as a great victory for the soviet government, and it will be used to fasten the shackles of Bolshevism more firmly upon the Russian people. The agreement, too, comes at a time when there is reason to believe that the red rule has been seriously weakened from within.

Commercial advantages which Great Britain may gain over other nations in dealing with the Bolsheviks will be overshadowed by the moral losses which will be sustained, both by Great Britain and by the world. By entering into trade relations with red Russia, Britain has undoubtedly weakened the cause of Poland, Rou-mania and other countries which border on Russia. The promise of the soviet government to stop its propaganda will not be worth the paper on which it is written.

Those soldiers should have known better than to have gotten into trouble over Grover Borgfeld.
 It was presumptuous for them to attempt to pull off a stunt at which Mr. Baker failed.

"I'm always a bit doubtful," observed the restaurant philosopher at luncheon today, "about the man who shows more concern about the welfare of some other land than about that he claims as his own."

It's possible that some of the fellows who insist that bandits have never attempted to hold them up go home after the bandits have knocked off work and gone to bed.

A CHECK ON EXPENDITURES.

"No statute enacted by man can repeal the inexorable laws of nature," declared President Harding in his inaugural address, and he spoke a truth that might well be remembered by a lot of people who turn to the government for legislation as a remedy for all the ills of society.

Mr. Harding was speaking particularly of the need for reduction of public expenditures as a preliminary to reduction of taxes. One thing the past administration couldn't seem to understand was that if expenses are kept up, taxes must be kept up also. At each session of congress following the armistice, the several departments of the administration asked for appropriations little, if any, less than during the war. It was only by the insistence of congress and the refusal to make appropriations, that any reductions in clerical forces were secured.

That policy of congress has put a check on expenditures, and, while reductions of taxes may not be practicable at once, the way has been prepared for reductions later.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

(By James Hall Naylor)

MAKE 'EM DISGORGES.

All the time we were in the World war, and since, we've been reading and hearing of how the American people have been robbed—ruthlessly robbed.

Robbed by whom?
 By contractors of all classes and kinds, apparently and seemingly.

And we've heard of the deplorable state of affairs until we've grown nauseated and numb over the iteration of instances and amounts.

But still there's more to follow!
 Now comes Mr. William J. Graham, chairman of the house select investigation committee, saying that he intends to force the return to the government of "hundreds of millions" of dollars, which Chairman Graham charges were lost to the people—because literally stolen from the people—by the operations of the war department's surplus property division.

Well, what was the "government's surplus property division?"

It was the disposal, after the war was over,
 of plants, finished products and raw materials which the government no longer needed.

You desire an instance?
 Well, here's one.

The Old Hickory powder plant was installed by the national government, at a cost to the taxpayers of the country, of $79,000,000.

The government didn't need this powder plant,
 after the war.

So our wise and economical war-department
 sold it to private parties.

But for how much?

For $3,500,000!

Did our government get the worth of the powder plant?

Charles Bennett Smith, former congressman,
 now representing a Buffalo wrecking company,
 says that the value of the plant as junk alone was fully $6,000,000; and that sold as building and machinery, it should have brought at least $15,000,000.

Why didn't our government get the worth of that plant?

Because the sale of it was made to the favored parties upon a Sunday, was rushed through—when, if the sale had been deferred until Monday, other parties would have bid several million dollars more for it.

So says Mr. William J. Graham, at least.

Yes, our war department could sell that powder plant—for a song.

But this same war department, with millions of dollars' worth of tractors rusting in places various parts of the country, can't sell these tractors to cities, states, or private individuals or companies.

Why?
 Because, the war departments avers:
 "The manufacturers inserted a clause in their contracts under which the use of the material for other than war purposes is prohibited."

What do you think of that?
 Why did the war department ever sign such contract?

Because of another contractual clause, 11,000 typewriters—many of them in their original crates—have been tossed into junk heaps in sheds along the Potomac river, and are now rusting to pieces.

Wise war department!
 Mr. Graham thinks that some of the government profiteers may be made to disgorge.

JUBILEE'S PARTNER

Illustrations by Judd Morlimer Lewis and Edwin Edwards.

It was warm again this morning when I got up and let Jubilee down out of the window by the rope in his teeth and it was not raining but it was cloudy, and when I went out with the milk pail to milk the dumb-bell I almost fell over my grandfather who was sitting on the back step fixing his fish line, and he said that he was going fishing down to the breakwater. And he went as soon as he had it, and my mother said to him to be sure and bring home a mess of fish and he said to her to have some lard in the pan.

Me and Jubilee went out to the barn and climbed out through the meadow my grandfather and old man Scanlon and he had his fish pole and when I got over to the vacant lot the bunch said for us to all get our poles and go to the breakwater and me and Jubilee and old man Scanlon would give us some minutes for bait. So we all skunk out and went down the railroad track so we would not have to go through Irish Town and me and Jubilee had a fight with the micks.

It was not so very chilly out on the breakwater any more and my grandfather had a can of minnows and so did old man Scanlon. My grandfather was telling old man Scanlon how he fit and won the war, and then he got a bite. He jumped up and walked up and down the breakwater on his game leg and pulled at his line and he had an offal time, and when he got it out it was a lawyer and they are not good to eat for anything else.

Then old man Scanlon caught a blue pike and a sand pike and a perch, and then my grandfather caught another lawyer, and while it was hanging in the air I said to him that my mother did not put the lard in the pan for a lawyer, and he turned around sudden to fuss at me and the lawyer blamed old man Scanlon in the face. Just then he got a bite and dropped the pole to

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGLY'S SOCK MENDER.

[BY HOWARD S. GARIS.]
[Copyright 1931, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

"Is there anything you want me to do for you before I go out?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day as she gave Uncle Wiggly his breakfast in the hollow stump bungalow.

"Oh, are you going out?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"Just to call on Mrs. Twinstail, the pig lady," was the answer. "But I'll return before lunch. I suppose you'll go out looking for an adventure?"

"Yes," said Mr. Longears. "I think I shall. That is, unless one comes to the bungalow here."

And that is just what happened. Listen and I'll tell you all about it.

Uncle Wiggly finished his breakfast and then began to get ready to dress to go out adventuring. He was putting on a pair of socks on account of having gotten his feet wet earlier that morning shoveling

The egg broke.

a little late snow off the walk, when he happened to notice that one of his socks had a hole in.

"Oh my goodness me, socks alive and a darned needle!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggly. "It would never do to go out with a hole in my sock. I must mend it. Let me see, how does Nurse Jane mend socks?"

Then he happened to think that his muskrat lady housekeeper had a thing she called a "sock mender." It was shaped like a lemon with a handle on, only it was made of wood. This mender went down inside the sock and then, with needle and yarn, Nurse Jane mended the hole.

"I must find Nurse Jane's sock mender," said Uncle Wiggly when he had managed to pick up a needle and thread out of the muskrat lady housekeeper's sewing basket. But the sock mender—the thing like a lemon with a handle—could not be found.

"Let me see," said Uncle Wiggly to himself. "Anything else shaped like a lemon, will be just as good. Ha! I have it! An egg, only there isn't any handle to go with. But I'll put an egg inside my sock and then I can stretch the hole over the round part and put it in the sock."

There were eggs in the hollow stump bungalow, and Uncle Wiggly soon slipped one inside his sock and the place where the hole needed mending. Gathering the sock with the egg inside, up in his paw, Uncle Wiggly started to take the first stitch, but all of a sudden something went "Crack."

"Oh, my good land! I've broken the egg!" cried the bunny gentleman. "I squeezed it too hard, thinking it was Nurse Jane's wooden mender! Oh, dear!"

Well might he say that, for the white and yellow of the egg was running out of the sock like molasses.

"That's bad luck," thought the bunny. "But I can wash that sock, and while it is drying, I'll get another egg, and mend the hole in my other sock." He had discovered a hole in each one.

Uncle Wiggly took the broken egg shell out of the one sock, and washed away the sticky white and yellow. Then he hung this sock up to dry, and, getting another egg, he slipped that into the second sock.

"I'll be careful not to squeeze this too hard," said the bunny gentleman. He was just taking the first stitch to mend the hole when the door of his bungalow opened and some one came in.

"Hello, Nurse Jane!" called the bunny. "Come and see me mend a hole in my sock!"

"This isn't Nurse Jane!" cried a voice with a sort of mewing sound. "I'm the bad Wildcat after your ears!" and in popped a lynx, or wildcat, eager to nibble Uncle Wiggly's ears. "I don't care whether you mend my holes in your socks or not!" snarled the lynx.

"Oh, but I care," said the bunny. "And really I think I am quite clever to use an egg for a sock mender. Here, I'll show you, as you might want to do the same some day." The bunny got up from his chair and walked over, with the egg in the sock, close to the bad chap.

"Stuff and nonsense! I never wear socks!" howled the lynx. "I want ears!"

"The only thing about using eggs," went on Uncle Wiggly, "is that they break so easily—like this."

With that he raised up the sock and brought the egg that was inside it smack down on the nose of the Wildcat. The egg broke, and the white and yellow ran all over the face of the bad chap!

"Oh, what has happened! The roof must have fallen on me!" howled the lynx, so frightened that his tail webbed. And then, all white and yellow as he was, away he ran, not bothering the bunny at all.

"Two eggs broken, but my ears are safe!" said the rabbit, who, as he was washed the second sock. "I guess I'll wait for Nurse Jane to do the mending." So the muskrat lady did.

Trouble Solver For Automobile

(If you have any troubles or wish any information about your automobile write to Frederick C. Guerlich, M. E., Stamford, Connecticut.)

Q. I have a 1916 (handcar) car. I thought you had a list of things and when I first got it could travel. Now it won't move. I thought very slowly on high gear, but now I could write to your valuable paper it gives a lot of short runs when I try and find the cause. Try to do so. What is the trouble?

A. Upon studying the catalogue of the car you mention, I notice that the No. 12 valve lifter also acts as a pressure pump, the pump action being due to a steel ball. It is possible that the action of this steel ball is the round you hear.

Q. I have practically made up my mind to buy a car. Do you consider this the best car for the money?

A. The car you mention is a good car, but for various reasons we can not express an opinion as to whether it is the best for its price.

Q. I have a 1914 car and recently had it overhauled. There is a little tapping sound in the engine now, and the repair man thought it was a valve tap and so regulated the valves, but the tapping continues.

Circuit Protecting Devices

A DEFECT IN THE INSULATION of the car wiring, which permits a conductor to come into electrical contact with another wire or with a metallic "grounded" part of the car, may cause a short circuit, through which a very large current flows, because the resistance of the lamp, horn or other device, supplied by the wire, is thereby cut out of circuit and a short path of practically no resistance is afforded the current. The escape of such an excessively large volume of current, for any length of time, will discharge the battery and make it temporarily useless and, as its flow is attended by great heat and sometimes by sparks, a short circuit involves some fire risk. In order to interrupt the flow of abnormally heavy currents, or at least to call attention to their presence, excess current protective devices of two kinds are used, viz: Fuses and magnetic circuit-breakers. The fuse depends upon the increased heating effect of the excessive current to open the circuit, and when the fuse has blown no current can flow in the circuit until a new fuse has been put in place. It consists of a short length of lead alloy wire, inserted into and made a part of the circuit to be protected, this metal being used because it melts at a temperature too low to create fire danger. A lead wire possesses very much higher resistance than a copper wire of the same size and length and thus the flow of current through it heats it much hotter than it does the copper wire of the rest of the circuit, so that by using small enough lead wire, it will be melted by a current that will not appreciably heat the circuit wires. When the lead wire melts, its ends fall apart and a gap is created that effectually stops the flow of current. By making the lead wire of exactly the proper size, it can be designed to melt at any required current.

For instance at 10, 20 or 30 amperes. Fig. 1 shows an automobile type of fuse cut-out, the fuse element itself being indicated as removed from its holder. Here A is the lead alloy fuse wire, enclosed in the glass tube B, to protect it against breakage, to confine the fusing action and to increase the accuracy of its operation. The ends of A are soldered to the two copper ferrules C C inserted over the ends of tube B. Mounted on block D are the two U-shaped spring metal clips E, furnished with binding screws F F for the circuit wires. Ferrules C are of such a size, that when the fuse element is snapped into clips E it is held firmly and is automatically made a part of the circuit. If the fuse blows, it is snapped out and a new one put in its place. There is usually one of these cut-outs in each lighting circuit, and in the horn, ignition and auxiliary supply circuit, all being grouped in a special compartment and marked. The glass enclosing tube permits the condition of the fuse to be told and the current capacity is stamped upon the ferrules. Fig. 2 indicates the principle of one type of magnetic circuit-breaker, where A is a soft iron core, held in the iron frame E, and B is a soft iron, swinging armature, pivoted at F and placed close to the free end of core A. Core A is wound with a few turns of heavy insulated wire D. Armature B is fastened to its upper end and the tripper bar C and is held away from core A by the adjustable tension spring J. On frame E is mounted the insulating block N, to which is fastened the flat metal spring O, that carries one of the pair of contact points H. A block of insulation M, fastened upon O, carries another flat spring P, which bears the other contact point H and is extended over the tripper bar C, but prevented from electrical contact with it by the insulating button Q. The wire from the battery, that supplies current to lights, horn and the ignition system, but not to the starter motor, is connected to binding post L and the circuit is through spring P, the contacts H, spring O, insulated winding D, to point R, through core A, binding screw K, on to the various circuits to be controlled. All current used by the lamps, horn and ignition flows through coil D, magnetizing core A and attracting armature B, but so long as these devices take only their normal currents, armature B is not pulled up against the core. When, however, a considerable excess of current flows, as in case of a short circuit, it magnetizes core A so strongly that spring J is overpowered and the armature is drawn against the core, at the same time causing tripper C to strike G and raise spring P, thus separating contacts H, breaking the circuit and stopping the flow of current; but as soon as the current ceases, the core is demagnetized, the spring pulls back the armature, contacts H come together and the current flows again. This contacts H continue to vibrate from their closed to their open position and the buzzing sound thus made warns the operator that there is a short circuit, which he proceeds to remove by switching of the separate lighting or other circuits, or removing wire connections until the buzzing ceases. With this device, the operation of the circuit-breaker dims or flickers such lights as may be in use and interferes with the ignition, but does not extinguish the lights entirely, and when the trouble is removed, the service is automatically re-established and there is nothing to be replaced. Similar circuit-breakers, of the "lock-out" type, which break the circuit and hold it open until restored by the operator, are sometimes used.

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address: Albert L. Clough, care of our office.

FIRST 100 MILEAGE

THE White Company publishes annually a list of White Trucks reported by their owners as having rounded out 100,000, 200,000 and 300,000 miles, still in active service.

Spread over such mileages, the investment in White transportation is a small item indeed. It is written off the books long before the truck's earning power is impaired.

Summary of 1920 List

Number of Owners	Number of Trucks	Mileage
14	28	300,000 miles and more
55	95	200,000 to 300,000 miles
86	124	150,000 to 200,000 miles
304	558	100,000 to 150,000 miles

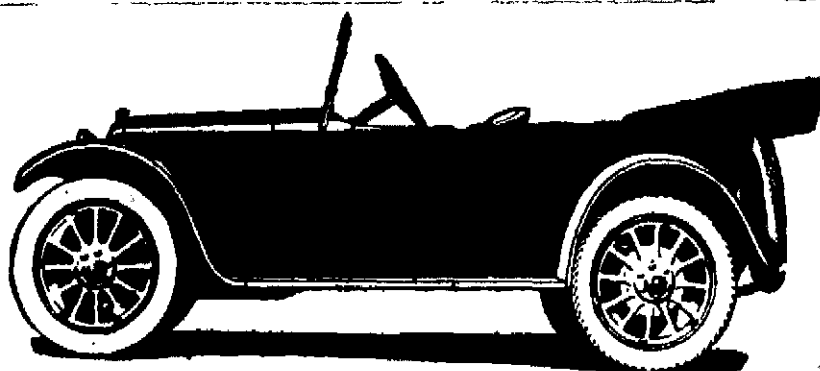

We will gladly furnish upon request the full list of White owners operating trucks with mileage records of 100,000 miles and more. Write for it.

The majority of the trucks included in this list are necessarily among the first built by the company. Their number is already so large in proportion to the early output as to indicate that 100,000 miles is universal for veteran White Trucks. Even 200,000 miles is not an uncommon performance.

A TRADE SURVEY BEING PLANNED

Hoover To Gather Figures on World Stocks.

PRESIDENT HARDING APPROVES MOVE

American Commerce and Agriculture To Get Figures on the Markets of World.

Washington, March 26.—Plans for a survey of world production and consumption together with the gathering of figures on visible stocks of all commodities are under consideration by federal officials. An effort already is under way by the department of commerce to obtain the figures on cotton and leather. The program has been approved by President Harding as a result of representations made by cotton producers and has been passed on to Secretary Hoover to develop. The motive behind the movement is to supply American commerce and agriculture with facts and figures concerning the world markets of the present and future. Mr. Hoover said last night.

In order to provide a sound basis for producing and trading, he declared it was important that world conditions be definitely known. He added that statistics on American production and stocks are not sufficiently complete, but they offer a foundation from which to work.

Cotton interests are understood to have claimed that a reduction in acreage was inevitable next year should the world stocks of that commodity be anywhere near as great as indicated. This situation, Mr. Hoover stated, showed the necessity for gathering the facts about that commodity as well as others.

It is not the intention, however, to launch into a program of obtaining statistics on all commodities at this time. Although Mr. Hoover said he believed the need was apparent, he added that his department was handicapped by lack of personnel and other facilities.

For the present, it is proposed to gather the data through American diplomatic officers and trade representatives abroad where they exist. But Mr. Hoover explained such facilities were necessarily limited and meant slow progress.

The suggestion has been made to commerce officials also that the new "contact" committees, which Mr. Hoover is organizing, lend their efforts to determine foreign production and consumption.

Mr. Hoover expects to have fifteen of the committees from the various important lines of commercial activity with him. The various chambers of commerce, together with the statistical divisions or executive departments may be utilized in the work, it was said.

ERWIN R. BERGDOLL APPEARS IN COURT

Effort Made To Secure Release of Draft Dodger.

Kansas City, Mo., March 26.—Garbed in regulation army prison uniform, Erwin R. Bergdoll, wealthy Philadelphia draft evader, appeared today before Federal Judge John C. Pollock, in a final legal battle to escape serving a four-year prison term. Bergdoll was brought here to testify in his own behalf at the habeas corpus proceedings. He appeared very dejected.

Bergdoll's attorneys will attempt to obtain his release on technical grounds. His attorneys charged that he never was legally notified of his drafting. The government contends one summons was acknowledged by members of Bergdoll's family and a plea of extension granted.

The prisoner was brought here from the military garrison of Fort Leavenworth by a commissioned officer and three military guards.

TARIFF RATES ON WOOL IN GREASE

Washington, March 26.—After lengthy discussion, the house subcommittee which is considering tariff rates on wool, decided today to establish a duty of eleven cents a pound on wool in the grease. The figure is the same as the duty on greasy wool scheduled. No decision was reached on the duties to be imposed on washed and scoured wool, except that they would not be less than those of the greasy wool.

SCANDAL ROCKS THE BALL WORLD

State's Attorney Discloses a New Story.

PLOT TO PURCHASE THE WORLD'S SERIES

Scheme Hatched in St. Louis Instead of New York—Plotters Secure Big Money.

Chicago, March 26.—Scandal rocked the baseball world anew, this afternoon, with the revelation of fresh charges in the 1919 World's Series corruption, when State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe disclosed a new story upon which indictments were voted by the grand jury against eighteen ballplayers and alleged gamblers. The new evidence puts an altogether different aspect upon previous information concerning the World's Series scandal.

The plot, according to State's Attorney Crowe, was hatched in St. Louis, instead of New York. There Carl Zerk, a waist manufacturer and Ben Franklin, a friend of his, are alleged to have conceived the idea of buying the World's Series. They determined, Crowe alleges, to "fix" seven or eight White Sox players. They reached it, it is alleged, seven regular players and a utility man.

In the midst of their scheming, Crowe alleges, they discovered they did not have enough capital to swing the deal. They wanted $100,000. In their quest for money, it is declared, they encountered Ben Levi, Louis Levi and Davis Zerk in Des Moines. The two Levis and Zerk, supplied a good portion of the capital. Crowe asserted and the rest came from the East. The eastern financial agent was said to be Joe Sullivan, of Boston, with Abe Attell, former featherweight champion, as the "go-between."

Just before the World's Series of 1919, Zerk, Franklin, the Levis, Zerk and Attell are alleged to have met in a room in a Chicago hotel and to have made final distribution of the "jack-pot." Zerk and Franklin are alleged to have cleaned up between $70,000 and $80,000 by their manipulations.

Zerk, Franklin, the two Levis and Zerk are the five new defendants named in today's indictments. Eddie Clemente, Joe Jackson, Claude Williams, Buck Weaver, Oscar Felsch, Fred McMullin and Charles Risberg, against whom previous indictments were recently dismissed, were re-indicted.

New Bills Appear in House. Law To Boost Salaries of Judges Attacked.

Columbus, March 26.—Governor Davis has the power to adjourn the session of the general assembly in case the two houses are unable to agree on an adjournment date.

E. W. Hughes, parliamentarian for the assembly, so advised the legislative leaders. He said there was no record of a governor ever having exercised this power, given him in the constitution. Governor Davis is known to favor early adjournment of the assembly, just as soon as the reorganization code, the appropriation bill and taxation measures are disposed of, and house members said they would not be surprised if the governor took a hand in case the house and senate continue at loggerheads over adjournment.

During the week the senate has refused to pass any house bills on its calendar because of threats of house leaders to adjourn. The house is scheduled to come back next week, finish the taxation legislation and pass the election code and then recess until April 11. The senate expects to keep right on passing senate bills and when it has finished with the senate program, house bills will be made a special order of business for the day the house returns.

Ten new bills were introduced in the house, included among them being a bill by Dodge of Union to repeal laws passed by the last legislature increasing the salaries of the supreme court judges, court of appeals and common pleas judges.

Another measure was a joint resolution by Silver of Preble proposing that the state of Ohio join other states in the Great-Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association, which has been formed for the purpose of making improvements in the St. Lawrence river which will make the Great Lakes accessible to ocean-going commerce. The Silver resolution requests Ohio congressmen and the two United States senators from Ohio to co-operate with other states in this movement. It is pointed out that it will bring Ohio at least 400 miles closer to the markets of the world.

FARMERS GET NOTICES TO SET BACK FENCES

Marion-Delaware Pike Must Be Sixty Feet Wide.

ACCORDING TO STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Many Farmers Encroaching on Road Which Is To Be Improved Next Year.

Notices to set their fences back to both sides of the road a sufficient distance to when the Marion-Delaware pike to sixty feet have been sent to Marion county farmers whose lands adjoin the pike. The notices were sent out by William E. Weston, county surveyor, at the instance of the state highway department.

A meeting of some of the land owners is to be held in the offices of the Marion County Farm bureau this evening to arrange for a meeting of all the farmers who own land along the pike in the near future. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the proposition and arrive at an understanding regarding the change.

What Weston Says: About 1901, the county commissioners changed the pike from a sixty-foot to a forty-foot road. Mr. Weston stated today that the supreme court has since held that neither the county commissioners nor the legislature has authority to reduce the width of a road.

According to the letter sent out to the property owners along the ten-mile stretch of the road from the corporation line to the county line on the south, the state highway department contemplates reorganizing the road in 1922 with a more permanent type of pavement and the work of widening the road is necessary in order to get the road in proper condition for this reorganizing. This action will necessitate the moving of fences on both sides of the road back ten feet almost the entire length of the pike in Marion county. In a few places, the road is approximately fifty feet wide and in those places the distance for moving the fences back will be correspondingly shorter.

Letter Sent Out.

Mr. Weston's letter to the land owners reads: "I am in receipt of a letter from the state highway department dated March 9 in which it states its budget for 1922 contemplates the widening of the Marion-Delaware pike from the city of Marion south to the Delaware county line. This work of widening is necessary in order to get the road in proper condition for the contemplated resurfacing of same in 1922 with a more permanent type of pavement.

"Therefore, it is necessary that the land owners along the entire length of the road set their fences back to the original line, which is thirty feet from the center line, making a sixty-foot road. We will set stakes at any time that you are ready to move your fence.

"It is imperative that this work be done at once in order that we may begin work as soon as weather conditions permit."

SIN IS RAMPANT IN THE COUNTRY

International Reform Bureau Finds Conditions Bad.

DIVORCE RECORD IS WORSE THAN JAPAN'S

One Divorce to Every Three Marriages in 620 Counties Is Remarkable Record.

Washington, March 26.—Sin runs rampant in the United States today and American women must use their vote to check it, according to the quarterly review of the International Reform bureau, published today.

Equal suffrage challenges the women of America "to equal efforts with men for the more strenuous bills relating to clean movies and morphine smuggling and divorce reform and gambling and law enforcement," declares the quarterly report. The divorce evil in the United States is spreading rapidly, the review states and surpasses that of Japan, "whose record was supposed to be the worst in the world."

The review presents a study of divorce statistics compiled from the latest available figures by Rev. Francis Minor Moody, which shows that in 1916, "twenty-four American states, ranging from Vermont, at 153 divorces for 100,000 population, to Nevada, at 652, had a divorce rate higher than was ever known in Japan, whose record was supposed to be the worst in the world."

A total of thirty-two American states had a higher divorce rate than Japan, the review continues and "the rate for all states was 136 for 100,000 net population and 112 for 100,000 total population," which exceeded the Japanese rate of 102.

"Japan's worst ratio of divorces, to marriages, was one divorce to 7.65 marriages, in 1908," said the review. "The Japanese ratio for 1916 was one divorce to 7.19 marriages. Seventeen of our states had ratios ranging from one to 6.93 in Kansas, to one to 1.51 in Nevada. Besides these seventeen we note that the states of Illinois and Michigan run worse than Japan's best, with ratios of one to 2.26 and one to 2.33 respectively."

A study of the ratios of divorces and marriages in the counties of the United States shows that more than 620 counties had a higher ratio of divorces to marriages than that in Japan, for the year, 1916. Fifty-seven of these counties had more than one divorce to every three marriages.

FREIGHT RATES ARE BEING CONSIDERED

Rail Executives May See Fit To Reduce Rates.

Washington, March 26.—A reduction of railroad rates, freight and passenger, as a means of increasing railroad revenue, is being seriously considered by a number of important lines. Executives have been studying the possibilities of increased traffic obtainable through a reduction of rates and some of them are about ready to advise that it be done. There are a number of systems on which there are examples of paralyzed traffic as a result of the high rates put in effect last summer. Another consideration that has led to their giving thought to reducing rates is the psychological effect it would have in connection with the proposed cuts in wages. Some executives believe it would strengthen their case with the public.

HOTEL COMPANY IS SUING FOR MONEY

Chicago, March 26.—The tangled financial affairs of Major General Leonard Wood's presidential campaign were further complicated today, when the Congress Hotel company filed suit against the Wood campaign committee for $15,000. Individual members of the committee named in the suit are Colonel William Cooper Proctor, Major A. A. Sprague, J. P. McGraw and Fred Stanley. The hotel seeks to obtain money alleged to be due for the rental of rooms, meals and damage to furniture owned by the hotel.

THIS IS HARDLY A SPORT FOR A PARLOR PARTY

How would you like to wrangle with an alligator as this young man is doing? He is Henry Copinger, of Miami, Florida, known throughout his state as the "Alligator Boy." Copinger's business is the catching, raising and exhibiting of alligators. He has lived in or near the Florida Everglades all his life and has made a life study of the dangerous reptiles. Copinger thinks nothing of diving into a stream of water infested with the "gators" and tossing one up on the bank. He has no fear of the snapping jaws or slashing tails of the alligators, having studied the reptiles so closely that he can handle them with comparative safety.

TWO OFFICERS ARE SHOT TODAY

Result of Battle with West Virginia Moonshiners.

WHISKY MAKERS ARMED WITH RIFLES

Leave Officers in Dying Condition in Ravine on Creek Near Charleston.

Charleston, West Virginia, March 26.—Thomas Martin, justice of the peace of Bout, Charleston and Peter Tyler, deputy constable, are in a critical condition in a local hospital from wounds received, early this morning, in a battle with alleged moonshiners and bootleggers. The fight occurred about 2 o'clock, this morning, in a ravine on Davis creek, six miles south of Charleston. Martin was shot in the neck, while Tyler's bullet penetrated his skull back of the right ear and lodged in Tyler's head. Constable C. J. Jarrell's hat was shot from his head, but otherwise he was uninjured, as also was Lawson Tyler.

Hermes Hutchinson and his son, Arthur, were arrested on Davis creek about 10 o'clock, this morning, charged with being implicated in moonshining and brought here and locked up. They had five gallons of moonshine whisky in their possession, according to the officers. Warrants are out for other suspects.

The officers had received a tip that a moonshine still was in operation on Davis creek and they went there, early last night, and lay in wait near several barrels of mash for their appearance.

When two men carrying a portable still were seen approaching, they were ordered by Justice Martin to halt. One of the men immediately opened fire, more than a score of shots were exchanged. The alleged moonshiners were armed with rifles. It was several hours before the wounded men could be brought to a hospital and the loss of blood made their condition more critical.

MINERS HARD HIT, SAYS REPORT TODAY

Hundred Thousand Miners Idle Since January 1.

Indianapolis, March 26.—Approximately 100,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America have not done a day's work since Jan. 1, it was said at the final session of the executive board of the union, meeting at international headquarters here. The remainder of the miners are working on an average of about three days a week, it was said. These figures do not include those unemployed because of strikes in West Virginia and Washington.

John L. Lewis, president of the mine workers, said the present unemployment situation is possibly more acute than it has ever been in the history of the union. "Coal production is averaging only a little more than 50 per cent of the normal output at the mines," he said. "Industries are eating into their reserve supplies in order to operate on this inadequate production."

To enable an amateur carpenter to select the kind of hand saw he wishes to buy an inventor has patented one with five kinds of teeth along its edge, properly marked.

ELYRIA BAKERS IN A BREAD WAR

Price of Bread Is Cut Two Cents a Loaf.

LOCAL BAKERS FIGHT WHOLESALERS

Woman's Civic Club Backs the Bakers of City, Who Claim Cut Is Not Justified.

Elyria, March 26.—Cleveland wholesale bakers informed Elyria retailers today that the price of bread will decrease two cents a loaf, starting Monday morning.

Present wholesale prices, nine cents for pound, and eleven cents for pound and one-half loaves. New prices to be seven and nine cents. Retail prices are now nine and thirteen cents, or two loaves for a quarter for pound and half loaves, which will drop two cents straight, Monday.

Elyria bakers said that to meet new prices will force them out of business and the Women's Civic club is appealing to women of this city to enter fight and back home-made bakers on the ground that Cleveland bakers are attempting to force them out of business. Several weeks ago, Elyria bakers claimed that Cleveland bakers purposely reduced prices from thirteen to eleven cents for pound and a half loaves to compel Elyria bakers to return to thirteen cents, which was reduced to eleven cents.

Drivers of Cleveland bakers wagons said today the bread price cut will not only be general in Ohio, but that the Ward company is making the cut consistently from New York to Chicago, in their some thirty bread plants.

Prices to be inaugurated Monday brings the price back to almost the pre-war level. Elyria bakers said the bread war and bread price cutting is not justified and assert that flour prices have not declined sufficiently to warrant such drastic price cutting.

Cut in Cleveland.

Cleveland, March 26.—Cuts of two cents a loaf in the price of both pound and twenty-four-ounce loaves of bread are announced by Cleveland bakers, effective Monday. Announcements of the price reduction were made by the Ward, General and other wholesale bakers. Under the prices a twenty-four-ounce loaf will retail for ten cents and the pound loaf, for eight cents.

FOURTEEN PERSONS CAPTURED IN RAID

Officials Swoop Down on Village Near Sandusky.

Sandusky, O., March 26.—Federal, state and county officials swooped down on the village of Willard, Huron county, to comb it for drug and liquor law violators and persons guilty of railroad property theft, departed in a special train for Toledo with 14 prisoners, arrested on various charges. The party searched every corner of the village, even to the office and safe of Mayor Barker, where nothing but musty documents was found.

Among the prisoners was one man charged with theft in 1915 of a United States mail pouch containing $19,000 in liberty bonds, and another on whose premises $6,000 in merchandise stolen from freight cars was said to have been found.

Tom King, son of the town marshal, was held charged with the bond theft. Officers charged that he had stolen a mail pouch containing the bonds from the Baltimore and Ohio depot platform here March 11, 1915.

Search of the home of L. R. Roebuckberger was said to have uncovered stolen freight shipments—clothing, auto parts and other merchandise. Louis, Ernest and George Roebuckberger, brothers, were also arrested in connection with the discovery. Most of the prisoners are foreigners and negroes.

Coney, transcontinental flyer, who was badly injured when his airplane fell, yesterday, near Monroe, Louisiana, was still in a serious condition today, at a sanatorium here. He spent a comfortable night after being brought here from Monroe, physicians said.

DAYTON HAS FIRST AEROPLANE GAME

It Is Opened by Former Field Pilot of McCook Field.

Dayton, March 26.—Dayton's first aeroplane game was opened today on a thirty-six-acre tract on the Wilmington pike, near here, by E. A. Johnson, former test pilot at McCook field. Johnson plans commercializing the aeroplane, as well as giving repair service to aviators. His first air line will be Dayton and Columbus, with a trip each way each day. Arrangements, he said, will be made to have a ship leave Columbus and Dayton daily and the landing grounds connected with the line by taxi. As soon as the local field is in running order, Johnson will seek a Columbus location.

SERVICE—WITHOUT SHAMMING
UNFORTUNATELY, in most busi-
